The Technical University of Kenya (TU-K) is a premier institution in technological education and training in Kenya. The University offers a diverse range of programmes at the Postgraduate, Undergraduate, and Diploma levels. Beyond academic instruction, TU-K is strongly committed to research, innovation, and community engagement, with a particular emphasis on the practical application of technological knowledge to address real-world societal challenges.

The University maintains a clear and structured policy on credit transfers for diploma holders. Candidates possessing a diploma equivalent to one offered at TU-K may be exempted from the first two years of study. However, they must complete any courses from those years that were not previously covered in their studies, subject to the approval of the University Senate.

TU-K has adopted a fully digitised and paperless application system—streamlining the process from initial application to final registration. Prospective students are therefore encouraged to apply online for the programmes on offer by clicking the link provided.
